

Mission

The Northwest Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of English (NWPCTE) is an affiliate of the National Council of Teachers of English. We serve English teachers in Erie, Crawford, Forest, Venango and Warren counties in Northwestern Pennsylvania. NWPCTE is run by English teachers for English teachers. It is a nonprofit organization dedicated to its goals and objectives.

The goals of the organization are to:

- provide resource information to English and language arts teachers
- keep teachers informed about current teaching methods and educational issues
- provide contacts and networking opportunities with other professionals in the field
- promote professionalism and excellence in teaching
- encourage teachers to continue to believe in their personal mission for teaching

If this sounds like an organization that would benefit you in your professional development as an English teacher, join today!
